Enthusiastic Reception of Parnell and his Associates at Detroit.

DETROIT, Feb 22—The Parnell Dillon [illegible] demonstration here this afternoon was an immense affair. The party was [illegible] at the Michigan Central depot and escorted to the Russell House by three militia companies, preceded by the 10th [illegible] band and a number of [illegible] and civic societies, with a large delegation of prominent citizens in carriages. The [illegible] at the Detroit Opera House in the evening was most [illegible] and enthusiastic. [illegible] Corcoran, [illegible] of the reception committee, read an address of welcome. Mayor Thompson introducing Mr Parnell delivered an able and [illegible] address strong[illegible] Mr Parnell and his mission [illegible] was greeted with thunders of applause. He spoke for half an hour and was listened to with rapt attention. In the course of his remarks Mr Parnell referred to [illegible] the New York Herald [illegible] and the manner of its distribution. Wishing to give the New York Herald [illegible] of showing that it was sincere in its expressions of sympathy with the Irish [illegible] he and Mr Dillon had published [illegible] days ago appealing to the Herald [illegible] a committee in Ireland to distribute [illegible] fund which would command the [illegible] of the Irish people. The Herald [illegible] to this appeal published the names [illegible] committee which was not a satisfactory [illegible] there was too much of the landlord [illegible] government influence in its composition. [illegible] in deference to the wishes of his [illegible] in all parts of the union, he consented [illegible] believing that by the appointment of [illegible] to represent him during his absence from Ireland, he could so neutralize [illegible] influence as to make the committee [illegible] but the Herald refused him the privilege of appointing a proxy and granted an [illegible] member to its committee, thereby [illegible] that its offer to him was not bona fide [illegible] feared that the influence of [illegible] would be used to defeat its ob[illegible] strengthening of the landlord in[illegible] under the guise of charity. At [illegible] of the meeting, nearly $1000 [illegible] and receipts from the sale of [illegible] will net a large sum for the relief [illegible]. Parnell, Dillon and Murdock, leave [illegible] Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Broadway Fire.

[illegible], Feb. 21—Hazen, Todd & Co [illegible] their loss at $450,000, insured. Dick [illegible] & Co., loss, $300,000; insurance, $205,000 was recently refused for [illegible] destroyed. It is insured and will [illegible]. The origin of the fire remain[illegible]

Rogues Fall Out.

[illegible], Feb. 21—Henry Orpen, keeper of [illegible] at No. 22 Florence street [illegible] learned to-night that two of his [illegible] who roomed together, had been missing [illegible] days. He opened their room and [illegible] C. Marshall, one of the missing [illegible] upon the bed with a revolver in [illegible] hand and a bullet hole in the right [illegible] head. In the room a large lot of [illegible] were found, also seven articles [illegible] number of precious stones taken [illegible]. The police believed the murder [illegible] committed in a quarrel over the [illegible]. The stones are thought to be a portion of those stolen from Geo H Norman's [illegible] in Beacon street on the night o[illegible]

[illegible] Facts of the Claysville Atrocity.

[illegible], W. Va., Feb. 21.—The facts connected with an incendiary fire at Claysville [illegible] the particulars of the attempt of a [illegible] to fire his father's house, men[illegible] in these dispatches last evening are [illegible] to-day by fuller reports from the [illegible] the occurrence. James Worrel the [illegible] perpetrator of the unnatural crime, [illegible] for the ministry, and a few [illegible] before the fire led a prayer meeting [illegible] that his desire for money had be[illegible] mania with him. Some time pre[illegible] the fire he stole several of his father's [illegible] and sold the pelts, and then innocently [illegible] his father search for the sheep. A [illegible] after the house was robbed of several [illegible] dollars, James claiming to lose [illegible] the robbery to blind the folks. It is [illegible] that his five sisters were locked [illegible] rooms and after the house was set on [illegible] James one of his sisters escaped and [illegible] the country to warn the neighbors [illegible] arrived in time to rescue the rest of the [illegible]. It is stated that young Worrel tried [illegible] the rest of the family some time [illegible]. The young man escaped to Ohio [illegible] in his flight by his father, who [illegible] has tried hard to shield his son [illegible] indignation of his neighbors.

[illegible] Replaced by Negroes.

[illegible], Ills., Feb. 21.—Parties interested in [illegible] mines in Northern Illinois are se[illegible] colored miners to take the place of [illegible]. Several hundred, collected from [illegible] points in Tennessee through their [illegible], have already gone forward.

Marine Disaster.

[illegible], R. I., Feb. 21.—The sloop Pearl [illegible] hands are reported lost off Cape Hat[illegible]

The Hudson Clear of Ice.

[illegible], N. Y., Feb 21—The Hudson river [illegible] for its entire length.

Outraged and Murdered.

[illegible], N. J., Feb. 21—Harriet Hook [illegible] aged 20, was found in her room this [illegible] murdered, outraged, and robbed of [illegible] watch and some money.

[illegible] principal cities will observe Mon[illegible] a holiday for Washington's birthday.

The Virginia Debt.

[illegible], Feb. 21—The senate by a party [illegible] 23 to 17, passed the debt bill agreed [illegible] by the re-adjusters. The caucus bill re[illegible] the principal of the debt to about $20,[illegible] and interest to 3 per cent bonds to be [illegible] and coupons not receivable for taxes.

[illegible] Bull and his Crew again.

[illegible], Feb. 21.—Dr. McGillicuddy agent [illegible] Pine Ridge agency, where there are 7000 [illegible] Cloud Indians, is here en route to Wash[illegible]. He reports everything quiet among the Indians. He says that messengers from [illegible] Bull state that he is in great need of [illegible], buffalo having become very scarce. [illegible] they would all return to the [illegible] States if they were sure of being re[illegible] without any punishment and that [illegible] would be taken care of. Dr McGillicuddy, who is a practical man and a successful Indian agent, says that they will return in a few months and then they will have to [illegible] taken care of. He will recommend that [illegible] be kept on a separate reservation near [illegible] Missouri river, away from other agency Indians who are becoming settled and in[illegible] civilization.

A [illegible] Confab between Agents of the Trunk Lines.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—A Chicago special to the Times says that at a meeting of the Union Pacific Railroad Co., just ended official information was received that the Pacific railroad companies had decided to meet the recent reduction on emigrant fares from San Francisco to New York by the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., by issuing emigrant tickets on the days that the steamships leave at $35, the regular rate being $65. The Chicago roads were ask-ed to pro rate on the tariffs and they agreed on [illegible] rule was [illegible] the share of rebate to be collected [illegible] New York [illegible] to [illegible] New York [illegible] arrival at [illegible] [illegible] Chicago [illegible] that unless [illegible] was agreed [illegible] passengers [illegible] by way of [illegible] and thence east over the Fort Wayne and Pennsylvania [illegible] dispatch was received from [illegible] that the Trunk Lines had decided to accept the pro rate put in [illegible] by the Pacific railroad companies without requiring passengers to pay full fare and accept draw back at New York. The representatives of the Chicago lines including the Wabash over which the threatened diversion of passengers by way of St Louis may pass expressed their determination not to submit and after uniting in a strong protest against the proposed plan of pro rating per mile adjourned without taking further action.

Death of a Journalist.

ATLANTA, Feb [illegible]—H G Wright one of the editors and proprietors of the Atlanta Constitution died to-day aged [illegible] at the residence of Gov Herschel V Johnson.

Church Burned.

WATERTOWN, N J, Feb 22—The Arsenal street Methodist church burned to-day.

Postal Change.

WASHINGTON Feb 22—The following postal change for Oregon was made during the week: Postoffice established—Knight, Marion county, Frank E. Knight postmaster.

WASHINGTON CITY

France and America.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21—Leon Chotteau has forwarded to the French government a communication urging the necessity of the appointment by that government of commissioners to the United States in the interest of the Franco-American reciprocity treaty. Chotteau expects to leave here shortly for France with official information that nothing will be done by the United States toward such treaty until the government is officially informed of the intentions of the French government in relation thereto.

Gen. Grant and the Sherman Memoirs.

WASHINGTON Feb 21—Gen H V Boynton, in a letter to the Post, states that the facts upon which his review of Gen Sherman's memoirs were based, were furnished him by Grant, through his then private secretary, Gen O E Babcock. This review based upon these facts, vindicated General Grant's military record in points where Gen Sherman had done him injustice. Recently Gen Grant had taken to praising "the memoirs" and maligning the review, and consequently reflecting upon the reviewer. In view of this state of affairs, Gen Boynton announces the source from whence his information was derived, in order to vindicate himself.

The Porter Case.

The friends of Gen. Porter have decided before calling up the bill in the house reappointing him to the army to canvass the democratic members and ascertain whether the disaffection is large enough to prevent action on the bill this session. Speaker Randall is severely denounced for advising that the measure be postponed until next session so that the republicans cannot make any capital out of it during the coming presidential contest.

Grant Delegates.

Letters received here from North Carolina say that all but two of the delegates chosen to the Chicago convention from the state at large have come out for Grant. They were all chosen as Sherman delegates.

The Democrats Conclude to Don't.

CHICAGO, Feb 21—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says there is a reaction setting in against the scheme to capture Minnesota for the Democracy. It seems now that Springer's plan will miscarry and his own party vote down the project for fear of disastrous results.

The Democratic National Convention.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21—The canvass for votes of members of the democratic national committee on the question of a place for the holding of the presidential convention has been very active to-day, and the chances of St Louis are said to be gaining strength rapidly upon assurances that Gov Tilden favors that city. The democratic arrangements of 1876 are to be duplicated. The entire local influence of St Louis in 1876 was in favor of Tilden and had an appreciable effect upon the convention. The Cincinnati delegates however, feel quite hopeful. They urge the claims of that city on the ground that Ohio is debatable ground; that Missouri is avowedly democratic and that the convention will do no good to go there; while Illinois is avowedly republican and hence ought not to have the convention. Cincinnati people say that they have the best hall in the country and that the citizens will defray the expenses of the convention notwithstanding a statement which has been made to the contrary. The chances of Washington City have diminished to-day but are still next to those of Cincinnati and St Louis.

Pacific Coast Representation in the National Democratic Committee—Cincinnati's Chances Growing.

At the meeting of the democratic national committee to be held here to-morrow Senator Farley will act as proxy for Frank McCoppin the California member and Judge McCorkle will represent Robert Keating, member for Nevada. Congressman Whiteaker is Oregon's representative on the committee and will appear in person. The chances for Cincinnati as the place for holding the presidential convention have been strengthened to-day by the development of the fact that the Chicago delegation is determined that St Louis shall not win and the St Louis men are dead set against Chicago while each delegation is in favor of Cincinnati against the other. New York does not want the convention and Pennsylvania men have abandoned their original intention of working for Indianapolis. The representatives of these two states will it is said support the proposition to hold the convention in Washington but none of the Western men favor Washington and indications to-night point strongly to the selection of Cincinnati.

The Time and Place.

WASHINGTON Feb 22—The absorbing topic this evening is the meeting of the National Democratic Executive committee which takes place to-morrow morning. If any reliance may be placed upon reliable estimates of average views expressed this evening it may be assumed that chances are in favor of Cincinnati as the place and June 10th as the time for holding the national convention.

U S Marshal for Oregon.

WASHINGTON Feb 21—The president sent to the senate to-day the nomination of Edward S Kearney to be United States marshal for Oregon.

Postmaster Appointment.

WASHINGTON Feb 2[illegible]—Benj J [illegible] has been appointed postmaster at Antelope Wasco county Oregon.

Of the nineteen presidents of the United States only five—John Quincy Adams, William Henry Harrison, James Knox Polk, Ulysses Simpson Grant and Rutherford Burchard Hayes—had middle names. The balance of the evidence seems to be against S Jones Tilden and T Adolphus Hendricks.

A MEDDLESOME MINISTER

A Question of Diplomatic Etiquette—How a Former Case Resulted.

[illegible] TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON, Feb [illegible]—A writer in the [illegible] to-day who is known to be a gentleman [illegible] asserts that Senor [illegible] Arrangoiz [illegible] minister resident [illegible] his [illegible] printed a pamphlet attack[illegible] the Monroe doctrine [illegible] Hayes [illegible] subject [illegible]. He says that Senor Arrangoiz [illegible] the pamphlet [illegible] members of the house and has [illegible] senators who are supposed to be advocates of the canal project and in favor of the Monroe doctrine. The writer [illegible] the article severely criticises Senor Arangoiz as a [illegible] act of intermeddling with [illegible] affairs by a foreign minister which recalls the case of the French ambassador general whom [illegible] openly and insultingly antagonized President Washington's Franco-English neutrality proclamation. In that instance General Washington resented the French minister's conduct characterized it in a cabinet meeting as an insult and disrespect [illegible] and insisted that the general be ordered to pack up and go home. The article also assails Secretary Evarts in pointed terms for his well known advocacy of a policy of delay in regard to an official declaration by President Hayes reaffirming the Monroe doctrine in furtherance of the construction of an inter-oceanic canal under the auspices of the United States and charges that the causes of Evarts' hesitancy in the matter are two fold, namely first that his vanity would be offended by the president obtaining credit for a position on this subject which he (Evarts) did not initiate and secondly and chiefly that Evarts is an attorney for the Panama Railroad Company whose property will be greatly depreciated if not wholly destroyed in value by the construction of a canal across any portion of the American isthmus.

The Irish Distress.

DUBLIN Feb 21—Valentine Dillon upon whom the responsibility of the organization of the Mansion House committee chiefly rests and who is thoroughly familiar with the situation states that the distress in Ireland is increasing instead of diminishing. The worst time he thought would be in June and July. If subscriptions should cease now, funds would soon be exhausted and people will die of starvation.

Irish Appeal to France.

DUBLIN Feb 21—The committee of the Mansion house relief fund in an appeal to the French people state that considerable gifts and promises of help have been received from Great Britain the United States and elsewhere and count on a generous response to the appeal. The archbishop of Bordeaux in forwarding five hundred francs to the Catholic archbishop of Dublin says France and Ireland are inseparable names recalling a community of faith and long standing exchange of sympathy.

The Catholic Church and Irish Distress.

Confidential reports respecting the nature of the agitation in Ireland have reached the Pope which show three fourths of it is due to a spirit of socialism. Very precise instructions to Irish bishops are being prepared, exhorting them to take care that in relieving distress they do not play into the hands of those working for a political object.

The Gray Libel Case.

LONDON Feb 21—The publisher and printers of the Sporting and Dramatic News have been held in their own recognizance for trial on a charge of libelling Lord Mayor Gray of Dublin. It is understood that adjournment of hearing of the case with a view of enabling the defendants to compromise by subscribing to the Irish relief fund but the amount they offered failed to satisfy the lord mayor.

Hartman's Case.

PARIS, Feb 21—A council of ministers to-day discussed the question of extradition of Hartman. The Russian ambassador has promised to speedily communicate the documents.

Outrage by Greek Bandits.

CONSTANTINOPLE Feb 21—Col Synge whom Sir Austen Layard sent last month to distribute relief among Mussulman refugees in eastern Roumelia has been captured with his wife by Greek brigands near Salonica. The bandits demand a large ransom. Col Synge writes to the British consul at Salonica urging him to prevent the despatch of troops as the brigands threaten to kill him and his wife if armed force is sent against them. Sir Austen Layard has ordered the British gunboat Rapid to Salonica to inquire the best course to pursue for their liberation.

ATHENS Feb 22—In consequence of the capture by Greek brigands of Col Synge and his wife while on the way from Constantinople to eastern Roumelia the British ironclad Invincible has been dispatched to Salonica.

Bulgaria and Greece.

CONSTANTINOPLE Feb 21—The British ambassador to Turkey has a dispatch from Philippopolis communicating a pastoral letter to the Bulgarian metropolitan ordering the Bulgarians to cease all relations with the Greeks on pain of excommunication.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, Feb 21—A committee of senators and members of the chamber of deputies has requested Premier Canovas de Castillo to negotiate with England and the United States for a reduction of duties on raisins and oranges. The premier has promised to examine the question.

Russian Provinces Suffering from Famine and Disease.

ST PETERSBURG Feb 21—News from the interior of the empire is heartrending. The famine and diphtheria are decimating the population. The provinces of Saratof and Kief which annually export in ordinary times enormous quantities of grain had scarcely any crop last year. The calamity is aggravated by the want of fodder for cattle and the peasants are forced to sell them.

Extradition.

ST PETERSBURG Feb 22—The Journal de Petersburg dwells upon the necessity of the extradition of regicides upon the grounds that they cannot be regarded as political criminals.

More of the Palace Explosion.

NEW YORK Feb 21—A London special gives the following from the Standard's Berlin correspondent: Lately the czar has hardly ever left the Winter Palace and when he went abroad he was surrounded by a cloud of mounted officers who concealed the carriage and protected the inmate with their bodies. In the palace he was accessible only to diplomats dignitaries and officers of the household. At the chapel detectives occupied seats that were formerly reserved for distinguished visitors. Detectives infest the kitchen. Every dish was tasted by persons of rank specially selected for that purpose. The emperor did not even venture to open his letters, documents steeped in poison having repeatedly been sent to him. Yet with all these elaborate precautions it occurred to nobody to search for advertised and placarded wine in the basement. The emperor and the duchess of Edinburgh were seated in an open apartment next the dining room when they heard the report of the explosion by which the lights were extinguished and gaspipe burst. The princess, officers and valets went blindly through the dark and then poured promiscuously through the doors of the royal apartments. The sovereign was found groping his way out of the fatal quarter. All who saw the sight of Alexander the Second leading his daughter away from the mine of dynamite say it was one that could never be forgotten.

Another Account.

NEW YORK Feb 21—A dispatch from Paris says of the latest attempt upon the life of the czar that palace officials have evidently allied with nihilists for it is affirmed that the czar daily found a black edged letter on his table threatening that he should never [illegible] the [illegible] anniversary of his accession to the throne unless he abolished his despotic system of government. Although officials were constantly changed the letter was always found. Several high officials have been placed under surveillance. It is rumored that a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] false.

Threatening Letters.

VIENNA, Feb [illegible]—The [illegible] relates that for some days past the czar has daily received a sealed letter containing a few words of [illegible] and saying that if he did not [illegible] his system of [illegible] he would not live to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his accession. The sheet was always bordered with black and in one corner was [illegible] as the black letter. All efforts to discover the persons who conveyed them to the emperor's room were unsuccessful.

Fire in Moscow.

MOSCOW, Feb [illegible]—A fire broke out yesterday in the Academy of Fine Arts [illegible] the [illegible] building which was capable of accommodating 300 students and [illegible] museum containing valuable collections was destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. When the fire was discovered some students were arrested.

The German Reichstag.

The reichstag to-day resumed debate on the budget. Herr Volkar [illegible] conservative declared himself in favor of a biennial budget, but urged expediency of an annual session of the reichstag. He said an increase of the army was rendered necessary by changes in the political situation. It was not from fear of a war of revenge on the part of France that the government thought it requisite to increase the army but from the consideration of what was passing on in the country bordering Germany on the east. The shameless nihilists who were pursuing the czar with their crimes were the same panslavists who declared in Berlin they desired to take possession of Constantinople. Herr Bamberger announced his intention when the budget came up on second reading to revert to the suspension of the sales of silver.

McMinnville Reporter: The clerk of this school district has just finished his labors in the matter of census taking, and the appended figures show the result. Number of inhabitants, 675; persons of school age, 232; male scholars 141, female scholars 141; legal voters 240. This report, in comparison with that of last year, shows that we are progressing—slowly but surely. Last year the census gave us 587 inhabitants. This year's census shows an increase of 88 under that heading. Last year we had 136 legal voters. We have taken a big stride in that matter, gaining as the figures show 104 voters.

On the night of the 13th inst a fellow named John Lance a lodger in the Gilmore Hotel at Junction climbed into the room of a lady lodger in the same hotel. He attempted to place her under the influence of chloroform but before that subtle drug had time to perform its work she aroused sufficiently to cry for help. He attempted to silence her but failing crawled out through the window and in his haste to regain his own room slipped and fell to the ground a distance of about twelve feet. While Mr Gilmore was loading his shotgun Lance managed, by the aid of a ladder to get back into his room where he was found. The marshal was summoned and on search being made a razor and a vial of chloroform were found on his person. As the lady was known to have some money in her possession it is questionable as to the nature of the crime contemplated.

California's Crops—Effects of the Past Winter on Fields and Orchards.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 21—The Bulletin this afternoon will publish the result of inquiries addressed to reliable correspondents in all parts of the state relative to the crop prospects for the coming season. It is shown that there is a much larger area of land under cultivation this year than ever before. [illegible] the whole the rain fall while not [illegible] has owing to its distribution been exceptionally beneficial, insuring with ordinary [illegible] showers even in interior counties good crops. [illegible] frost has not materially damaged [illegible] grain at most only retarding its growth while it is giving it an opportunity to [illegible] its roots deeper into the ground while the evaporation of moisture from the soil has been prevented. That the new growth of wood on orange trees has been destroyed but the trees themselves are uninjured. That in many localities where the orange has survived [illegible] and lime trees have been killed [illegible]. That budded and grafted citron trees have suffered more than seedlings. That other fruit trees and grape vines have not been injured.

Port Townsend Items.

PORT TOWNSEND Feb 21—The revenue cutter Wolcott observed Washington's birthday by firing a national salute at noon and one at sunset.

The district court will convene here Monday. There are but few criminal cases, and the civil docket is unimportant.

New Route to the Skagit.

SEATTLE, Feb 22—Work on the proposed trail to the Skagit mines will be commenced immediately, the route adopted being only about 18 miles from the head of canoe or bateaux navigation into the diggings, while steamers will run up to within eight miles of the latter point. A party who left here recently for the mine packed in an average of 90 pounds to the man over the present foot trail.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Victoria Items.

VICTORIA Feb 22—The subscriptions of Victoria to Irish relief aggregate $1045.

The steamship Victoria from San Francisco passed this port for Nanaimo this morning at 6 o'clock.

The steamer Gem is reported sunk in the Fraser river having been cut through by the ice.

There is no cessation of frost on the mainland. The snow still lies deep and cattle are perishing in large number on the coast. The weather is clear and spring like.

The steamer California's freight, mails and passengers are still in town awaiting transportation to Sitka.

The steamship Hylton Castle from San Francisco arrived this afternoon.

A SMALL TAXPAYER'S VIEWS.

PORTLAND Oregon, Feb 21 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Having read with great interest the articles appearing of late both in THE OREGONIAN and other papers of this city relative to the public schools I feel impelled to add my mite thereto.

I heartily congratulate you on the stand you have taken in the matter and fully agree with you that the present system of cramming not teaching children is as far from being proper as a manure heap is from being a palace. The high school should be abolished in toto. It is a most outrageous fraud that such an institution should be supported by the taxpayers the majority of whom are comparatively speaking poor men. Is it just or right that I who am unable to support my sons until they are nineteen or twenty should be taxed to educate the children of wealthy men, or is it quite as according to equity that I should pay for the classical education of Mr ——, while mine have to learn a trade to support themselves.

This whole subject may be condensed as follows:

Mr —— is worth $2500 or more a year and can afford to keep his son until he graduates at the high school at the age of 19.

I am worth from $600 to $1000 or less a year. My boy passes through the public school proper at the age of 15 or 16 and then has to learn a trade. Why should I be taxed to give the son of wealthy parents a higher education than my own.

Another point against the present system is the fact that it completely reverses the old [illegible] and makes it [illegible] [illegible] us from the various [illegible] [illegible] children has to study under the present [illegible] [illegible] he is almost totally unable to grasp the most important elements of a sound English education.

The entire system needs a most careful revision and as you have placed your hand to the plow of work may you continue is the earnest prayer of many who like myself are comparatively poor. A TAXPAYER.

Hayes Named as Second Choice.

CHICAGO Feb [illegible]—An Inter Ocean Indianapolis special says Postmaster Holloway in an interview to-day says that the stalwart republicans with whom he talked in Washington favor Hayes as a second choice to Grant and that a movement was on foot to consolidate on Hayes if it were found Grant's nomination would incur the probability of defeat.

REPLY TO SHIPMASTER.

Feb 21 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

You publish a letter from a disgruntled shipmaster this morning which in the main carries its own refutation and can only be regarded as the final growl of some old tar whose good nature usually oozes out in growling. He growls because he is persuaded to take a steam tug at the bar rather than run the risk of grounding, &c, but asserts that the Columbia bar is continually changing and to run in with out a steam tug is attended with considerable risk. Now with this as a starting proposition is it not plain that the man is foolhardy who would imperil the property committed to his care besides valuable life in disregarding the advice of the bar pilots. He ought to be knocked overboard with a stuffed club to do otherwise.

The growler next proceeds to disparage the steam tug service at the bar and their charges but as it has often been demonstrated that the charges are less than for towage at the Golden Gate we can dismiss his fling at our infancy because we are growing and eventually will have larger tugs and more of them. The astute shipmaster then proceeds to advise shipowners not to consent to contract for pay of lighterage down the river. What if they should not? their charter rate would be proportionately less of course, and that would not change the result in the final outcome. Old growler next proceeds to advise that shipowners should never concede that merchants should name their own stevedores in loading vessels. The thought of fine banquets nice commissions and extra attentions all around which exist only in his dreams now incites him to suggest the elysian prospect just beyond its reach as in every other ship's charter the world over will be the stereotyped clause— vessel to employ stevedore to be named by charterers. Any one conversant with the strife between stevedores here for years past can easily give the lie to the assertion, that exorbitant rates are charged. They are less than they are in the port of San Francisco, and it is easy to see that Fairfowl Brown and Pope are not gorged with riches.

Another total falsification crops out in the assertion that in former times the merchant paid 10 to 12 cents per ton to the stevedores for bringing the bags of grain alongside the ship for loading from the wharf, but now is indirectly charged to the ship, &c. This has no foundation in fact nor never had. It does not amount to a fraction of a cent when the grain is trucked ten feet or twenty feet or forty feet to the ship's side but this is a legitimate item of ships expense under the conditions of the charter. Shipmaster also adverts to it as if it were an extortion that extra is charged for lightering freight from a grounded vessel but it does not require a very wise man to discern that it is harder and more laborious work to do this than simply from an elevated wharf to slide the load between decks and it would strike even a digger Indian forcibly that more pay should be required therefor. The final advice of Shipmaster caps the climax of absurdity along with the balance of his suggestions in which he sagely advises shipowners not to bind themselves to the charterers should the vessel arrive after cancelling date. Any other system than now prevails would make the business of chartering for future arrivals impossible and the party is simply a fool who can propose a different status. Now Mr Editor, having given Shipmaster's views an airing, which seem to have been "conceived in sin and born in iniquity," being in fact a tissue of misrepresentation and advice utterly impossible of attainment from beginning to end, I would say in behalf of the Portland board of trade and in view of the fact that there are many real and tangible impediments in the way of our progress as a shipping port, to which they are giving earnest attention, that they cannot afford to spend time on charges that carry their own palpable refutation on their face. Shipmaster is undoubtedly one of the firm of stevedores so affectionately referred to, and the whole letter has no other purpose than to advertise them at the expense of truth and justice. As a foil to many of the unjust criticisms of Shipmaster, let the thinking public digest the following item, which will better illustrate the general character of the misstatements of Shipmaster.

The San Francisco papers make it a point to publish full details regarding accidents to vessels while en route to this city, so as to give out the impression to ship owners that it would be safer to send their vessels to that port for cargo. The last mishap was the grounding of the British ship Mernmyee Frampee out of the channel in the Willamette. Notwithstanding, she was compelled to unload two or three hundred tons of freight in order to float and lightering six hundred tons to Astoria, the captain asserts that his expenses have been $100 cheaper to this port than he has ever been able to clear from San Francisco, for, when taken into account that the Mernmyee Frampee is one of the old class style of ships, deep and narrow, which makes her a vessel not the best adapted to business here, this showing is one very well calculated to illustrate the advantage of this shipping port over that of San Francisco. We presume it will be impossible to make the Alta or Bulletin note an item like this but, nevertheless our readers may be assured that it is the truth made by a person who has no motive for misstatement.

SCHEMES TO INCREASE TAXATION.

MARION COUNTY Feb 19 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I think you builded better than you knew when you stated that the class who live off of taxation devote their whole time and ingenuity to invention and perfection of schemes to increase taxes. Some few years since a tax bill the joint production of the then state treasurer Brown Hackleman and Gilfrey was introduced in the legislature and worked through one house and nearly through the other which these disinterested worthies said would largely increase the revenues but which others who were not tax eaters said would come pretty near confiscating half the property of the state. The authors all spent a considerable portion of their time in the lobby watching the progress of that bill which was to increase largely the revenues of the state and more largely their own opportunities for plunder while Hackleman who was drawing a salary as clerk of the treasurer and sharing presumably in the rich perquisites of that office and also robbing the treasury of $1800 a year as nominal clerk of the land board gave his whole time to lobbying that bill. And when in spite of the endeavors of its authors and promoters it was on the last night of the session defeated he refused to be comforted.

LIMITS OF FREE EDUCATION.

The judgment of this community in regard to the public schools is, beyond all doubt, that property should be taxed as far as may be necessary to raise a fund to support common school education, but that beyond the common or elementary branches, education should not be made a charge upon the public. Though this is the view urged by this journal for years past, we have not till now seen indications that people generally were of the same way of thinking. But now there is unmistakable sentiment on the subject. The attention of the public having been drawn more distinctly than ever before to the great departure made during the last few years from the system and purpose of the old common schools, it is manifest that public opinion is decidedly in favor of reducing and simplifying the "establishment,"—as the system has been called since it grew to its present proportions. We do not pretend that public opinion is unanimous on the subject, but are entirely sure that the average public judgment is that no other than the elementary branches should be taught at the public expense, that the high school ought to be discontinued, and that methods of instruction, which for some years have been growing to a complexity which puzzles the learner and which works the teacher harder out of school hours in making up trivial reports, calculated on percentages of proficiency, behavior, etc, than in the actual duties of the school room, ought to be simplified, so that our schools may be eliminated of "flummery," and get down to business. If people who are of opinion that thorough instruction in the elementary branches is all the public should pay for, think it worth while to attend the school meetings, soon to be held, they can undoubtedly secure adoption and enforcement of their views. The directors will be bound to act as instructed by the taxpaying voters of their district. But if no attention be paid to the matter, the school system will remain under control of the professional class who have built it up in its present form, and who wish to extend and enlarge it still further.

As matter of fact, if we continue the high school, there is neither propriety nor consistency in stopping at the limits now reached. When we start in to furnish a classical, literary and scientific education at the public expense, every argument used in support of the high school requires us to extend the facilities of free education till we open universities at the public cost to give every person who desires it a complete higher education. Nor should we stop here. Specific education would be the next thing; that is, we should tax the people to give individuals special education for professions, as law and medicine. And then consistency and a just regard for the deserving poor, who should be placed on equal terms with the rich, would require us to find offices for our educated wards and set them up in business. Some states have, indeed, already gone so far as to establish schools for the purpose of giving teachers the professional education they require. Just as well have law schools, and far better mechanical schools, on the same basis. If we stop at the high school we have done too much or too little. Most persons educated so far at the public expense acquire habits which unfit them for any of the handy occupations, and their mind will turn to anything more independent or laborious than a clerkship, or some position about an office or store. Of course there are exceptions, but this is the rule. At the same time their education has not been thorough enough to fit them for competition in the professions with men who have gone through the discipline of a severe intellectual training. Hence the state, in furnishing what we here call high schools, either goes too far or not far enough. The truth is, however, that success and usefulness depend not half so much on opportunities for education as on native force and energy. Give all an equal chance for good instruction in the elementary branches, and native talent will do the rest. If the talent be there, it will discover itself every time. If it be not there, academic and university education, whether given by the state or bestowed by the parents, will be alike profitless. If a person who has received a good common school education have in himself energy and purpose to push ahead on his own account for higher scholarship, surmounting all ordinary obstacles, he is a person who would do much in any line of business which required higher education, even if such education were furnished [illegible].

The question is simply as to the limits of public duty. We believe that our system has gone far beyond those limits, as well as far beyond the proper limits of the public purse. We should require the most thorough possible fundamental education, on simple and efficient plans; but Latin, German, French, chemistry, geology, botany, physics, the higher mathematics, etc., should not be taught. That this position will ultimately be sustained by the people, here and elsewhere, we have no doubt whatever.

GEN. GRANT'S POSITION.

Most Eastern journals of independent and therefore of unbiased judgment, express the opinion that the action of the Pennsylvania convention, so far from being helpful to Grant, is on the contrary one of the surest of all possible indications that his adherents cannot carry his nomination at Chicago. Instructions for Grant at Harrisburg were secured only by a slender majority, gained through delegations appointed by county committees, and therefore set up to secure obedience to Senator Cameron. Everyone of these delegations was, in fact, obedient to him, while those from counties where the people had elected were mostly against Grant and held out against him in spite of the utmost efforts and influence of the Cameron ring. Having undertaken to carry the instructions for Grant, the Cameron politicians were bound to succeed, or admit that the control of the party in their state had passed from their hands. Yet, even under these circumstances, but a bare majority was obtained,—showing that behind the opposition to Grant, which asserted itself in the convention, there was a public sentiment even in Pennsylvania, adverse to the third term, which is entirely too strong to be disregarded. It is admitted moreover, that the delegation, though instructed for Grant, will not vote for him solidly, but will break up as it did at Cincinnati in 1876, when members insisted on their right to cast their votes as they thought fit, and were sustained in their claim by the convention, in spite of the unit rule.

The Philadelphia Times, an independent journal of national celebrity, declares that the so-called victory for Grant in Pennsylvania, instead of being an honorable victory for the ex-president, is "not merely a fraud and a falsehood, but a crucifixion of Grant before the world." And the Chicago Times another independent journal, calls it "a triumph for Grant at the cost of sacrifice and humiliation." The reasons are these:

Twice has Gen. Grant been named the candidate of the republican party for president by unanimous acclaim, no voice dissenting or objecting. These were high honors, never before bestowed by any political party on any citizen since Washington. Of all the American presidents before Grant, Washington alone was twice a candidate by the unanimous voice of those who favored the general policy his candidacy represented. To have achieved the like eminent distinction of being twice chosen by the unanimous voice of the governing party to occupy the seat of Washington was an honor to Grant not less in degree than that which the nation in its infancy paid to its eminent military leader in the first revolutionary struggle. That Grant and his more considerate friends so regarded it there is ample evidence. Hence the declaration ascribed (probably not without truthfulness) to Grant himself as to his more intimate friends, that he would not again accept a nomination to the presidency unless it came to him as the unanimous expression and wish of the party that had hitherto, without a manifestation of doubt, deemed him worthy of its full, unhesitating trust. A nomination made only by overcoming the opposition of a considerable minority would imply that a considerable section of the party had withdrawn the confidence they formerly placed in him—would imply that he had fallen in the estimation of his own political friends from his former worthiness to occupy the high place in history awarded to none other but Washington. To accept a nomination bringing with it such an implication would be to accept humiliation. It would be to recognize the fact that the citizen who has been so highly honored by the voluntary tender of the unanimous confidence of his party can not be so honored again, but that to get the office which twice sought him he must now seek for it against those who have withdrawn the confidence they formerly gave. It would be an act of self abasement, a voluntary stepping down from the historic niche of Washington to that lower place of very common presidential aspirants who squabble for a prize against an unwillingness among their own partisans to award it to them. It would be a sacrifice of the highest honors ever bestowed on an American citizen for an object whose attainment could add no higher honors, while its method would detract greatly from their lustre. This is the best view of it, as it founded on the supposition that he would be elected. Should he fail of election it would hardly be possible to measure the depth of the fall.

This view of the case fully sustains the strong language above quoted, that the instructions for Grant by the Pennsylvania convention, carried by only a lean majority, and through political pressure which had to be employed to save the credit of Senator Cameron, are "a crucifixion of Grant before the world." That result and other political signs indicate how far he is, as a candidate, from the position he held in 1868 and 1872, when he was nominated and renominated without a dissenting voice in the conventions of his party. It will be seen very plainly when the delegates assemble in June next at Chicago.

In view of the somewhat alarming frequency of homicides in our midst, the case of the state against Ah Lee, now under sentence of death for the murder of one of his countrymen in the Chinese Joss house, some time since and which was argued on appeal in the supreme court some days ago, is attracting considerable attention, and much interest is manifested in the awaited action of the supreme court. Ah Lee has been twice convicted by a jury in this county of the crime of murder in the first degree, and it would seem that a strong reason ought to exist therefor before the judgment of the circuit court is annulled. District Attorney Caples and his assistant have followed this case with great pertinacity, and with the evident design of doing all in their power to render effective what appears to be the just verdict of the jury.

Commander Gorringe, who is removing the Cleopatra needle, testifies that it would be impossible to improve any part of the construction of the foundation and pedestal of this great shaft, constructed about 2000 years ago. The "iron or steel" dogs which bound the several pieces of granite together in precisely the same manner as in the best work of the kind at the present day, (including the lead packing) are of a quality of metal surpassing any productions of Russia, Sweden or Pennsylvania. While it is as hard as steel it is as ductile as the softest wrought iron. To move the foundations, says Commander Gorringe, has been as great a piece of work as it must have been to construct them. Aside from the construction of the foundation that has so well stood the test of time, there is a field for study in the excellence of the iron and steel found.

A movement is on foot in the city of New York to erect a monument to mark the spot where George Washington first took the oath of office as president of the United States and inaugurated the government of the new republic under the federal constitution. The United States sub-treasury now occupies the historic spot, and it is proposed to commemorate the event by the erection on the eastern and western buttresses of the building of two colossal bronze groups,—one group representing George Washington and Robert R. Livingston and the other Alexander Hamilton and De Witt Clinton. The cost is estimated at $30,000.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Northern Pacific railroad lands, on the Pen d'Oreille division of the Northern Pacific railroad in the eastern part of Washington territory. There are large bodies of these lands which are unexcelled in fertility and value, and they are offered at a rate and on terms which make them very desirable to settlers. Construction of the road, now in progress, will bring them at once in communication with markets.

"After Grant who?" is the conundrum now agitating eastern political circles. The weight of opinion among old political observers is that it will be Washburne, notwithstanding his emphatic asseverations that he will not be a candidate. Others believe it will be Hayes, who now undoubtedly occupies in his party a position which no prophet could have foretold for him two years ago.

The Olympia Courier undertakes to correct "the assumption of THE OREGONIAN that the delegates (Brents and Minor) from Washington territory are for Grant." The so-called correction is unnecessary, as THE OREGONIAN never "assumed" anything of the kind. It has never entertained a doubt that both the delegates are for Blaine.

It is said that those distinguished confederates, Alex. Stephens and Gen. Gordon, have settled their differences, or at least agreed to drop them. But Stephens took advantage of his physical decrepitude to read Gordon a lesson on good manners before coming to terms with him.

The General Opinion.

Both the Welcome and Mercury of this city take a view of the public school question similar to that presented by THE OREGONIAN—that is a good, practical, elementary education at the public expense for all the children and youth of the community, but no academic "extras." The Mercury goes on to say:

> The prevailing system in our common schools in which pedantry and affectation, superfluity and superficial attainments, have in a great degree taken the place of solid rudimentary acquirements, as prevailed in an earlier day in our country is receiving a deserved airing and meets the reprobation of our best classes of citizens. It is time for a full halt on the road to extravagant pretensions now inaugurated and beyond the basic elements of an English education there should be no instruction at public expense. Any child of ordinary intelligence, after receiving this ground work of education, can rise of his "dead self to higher things" in the arena of knowledge which thereafter lies in easy grades of mental search before him. The ambitious will take that road, but the dolt can never attain it, even though costly array of principals and instructors stuff him with their glittering generalities.

DIED.

At St. Vincent's hospital, Feb. 22, Anthony Johnson, aged 26 years.

Funeral will take place to day at 2 P. M. from the Catholic church. Friends of the family invited to attend.

A carefully selected orchestra and chorus have been engaged for the brief operatic season. The company will sail for Portland on the [illegible] and the new season will open Monday, March 1st. The opening opera will be the "Chimes of Normandy." The following is the repertoire for the first week: Tuesday, [illegible] 2d, "Bohemian Girl"; Wednesday, March 3d, "Grand Duchess"; Thursday, [illegible] 4th, "Friquet"; Friday, March 5th, "[illegible]"; Saturday, matinee March [illegible] "Chimes of Normandy"; Saturday night, March 6th, "Bohemian Girl." The subscription list will open to day, season ticket holders having the first privilege of seats. The regular sale of reserve seats will begin on Thursday.

Rebuilding Fund.—Recently a meeting was held at Neppach's Hall East Portland which was presided over by Archbishop [illegible]. The object was to prosecute the [illegible] for subscriptions for funds with which to rebuild St. Francis church. On [illegible] of the meeting the Vindicator says the reverend archbishop was on motion [illegible] to repeat his lecture on Alaska [illegible], to which he consented. Rev. [illegible] Verhaag suggested the advisability of [illegible] a two story building, the upper story [illegible] by himself and the lower one for church purposes, to be employed [illegible] till a more substantial structure [illegible] built. In accordance with the above a personal canvass of the city was [illegible] on Wednesday, and up to Thursday [illegible] fourteen subscriptions had been obtained swelling the amount raised by the [illegible] Archbishop Seghers to $900. The canvass of East Portland of course [illegible] been made, and we feel confident [illegible] $500 or $600 more will be subscribed toward the rebuilding fund of the [illegible]

Prisoner Escaped.—Some time last [illegible] D. Brown, a U. S. prisoner who [illegible] at the prison on McNeil's [illegible] Steilacoom, Washington territory, made his escape from the [illegible] Hopkins has been searching [illegible] since he made his escape, but [illegible] succeeded in capturing him yet [illegible] in Portland last Thursday. [illegible] having charge of the prisoner at [illegible] arrived here Saturday evening [illegible] Brown. The escaped prisoner [illegible] seven inches high, slender [illegible] complexion, a broken [illegible] when he escaped, a little [illegible] eyes black and deeply set [illegible] a very dissipated look [illegible] when last seen, aged about 28. He is supposed to be in this city at [illegible] in the vicinity. Marshal Hopkins [illegible] anxious to secure Brown's arrest, [illegible] a liberal reward for his apprehension.

For the Poor of Ireland.—The Inland [illegible]: "The Irish relief committee of [illegible] Thursday, forwarded through [illegible] & Co., a draft on Ladd & Tilton [illegible] for $304, being the proceeds [illegible] and supper given for the relief of [illegible] Ireland. The draft is subject to [illegible] Most Rev. Archbishop Seghers, [illegible] instructed to forward to the [illegible] Archbishop of Tuam through some [illegible] bank in Ireland. Messrs French [illegible] generously refused payment for [illegible] the exchange. This ends the labors [illegible] committee, who have been untiring in [illegible], and they desire to return most [illegible] thanks to the citizens of Wasco county [illegible] have so generously aided in relieving [illegible] at present existing in 'Erin's [illegible] Isle.'"

Celebrating their Engagement.—The residence of Mr. P. Selling, the well known [illegible] corner of Tenth and Main streets, [illegible] last night of merry festivities [illegible] received late last week of the engagement of Mr. Ben. Selling, who is in San [illegible] to Miss Tillie Hess of that city. [illegible] the event, Mr. and Mrs Selling [illegible] a number of young friends, who fill[illegible] pleasant parlors and spent a pleasant [illegible] with dancing to the music of a splendid [illegible]. Several congratulatory telegrams [illegible] Francisco were received and read [illegible] o'clock the happy company adjourned [illegible] dining room, where a very fine supper [illegible] served, and the health and happiness of [illegible] soon to be made one, was drunk [illegible] of champagne.

[illegible]—It appearing to the satisfaction of the District Attorney and the Police [illegible] that the charge preferred by Goforth [illegible] Sheriff I. C. Dickey, of Linn county, [illegible] foundation whatever, in fact, and [illegible] for the purpose of extorting black[illegible] defendant was discharged and the [illegible]. Goforth had refused to appear [illegible] prosecuting witness in the case although [illegible] summoned, and a warrant was issued [illegible] arrest for contempt of court on motion of District Attorney Caples. He was [illegible] last evening and taken to jail, where [illegible]. His case will come up for trial in [illegible] Court to-day.

Washington's Birthday.—The 148th anniversary of the birthday of the father of our [illegible] occurred yesterday with nothing in [illegible] of a celebration in this city. The [illegible] of a holiday was the usual display of flags on the various staffs and the [illegible] of the American shipping, including the steamer Oregon in port. To day [illegible] banks, and many wholesale houses [illegible], but the courts, postoffice and custom house transact business as usual. The Washington Guard will parade and are requested to meet at Capt Cooke's office at 9 [illegible] sharp.

Sentences Commuted.—Gov Thayer has [illegible] commuted the following sentences: [illegible] Randall, sentenced July 27, 1877 for [illegible] from Multnomah county for assault with a deadly weapon cause meritorious [illegible] Henry Waters, sentenced [illegible] for one year from Multnomah county for adultery, on account of [illegible] good conduct and valuable services ex[illegible] Edward Riley, sentenced [illegible] 1879, for one year from Multnomah county for larceny, on account of meritorious conduct.

[illegible] for Esther.—New Market Theater [illegible] literally packed next Wednesday [illegible] on which occasion will be rendered [illegible] and chorus from "Esther" and "Bel[illegible]" judging from the number of tickets [illegible]. Already eight hundred tickets have [illegible] here, and two hundred in San Francisco. The box sheet will be opened this [illegible] at 10 o'clock at Bartsch's music [illegible] there will be a great rush for seats so [illegible] persons who have no tickets should go [illegible].

[illegible].—The Busy Bees of East Portland [illegible] a few days ago at the residence of [illegible] Wm. Dalton, and elected the following [illegible] for the ensuing term: President, Mrs [illegible] Dalton, vice president, Miss Mary [illegible] secretary, Miss Ida Russ; treasurer, [illegible] Shorren. The society has been [illegible] the Young Ladies' Aid Society [illegible] meet at Mrs. Dalton's residence every [illegible] at 2 P. M.

Sentenced.—Jack Williams, the would be [illegible] murderer, who has been indicted by the grand jury of the state circuit court for the crime of robbery, entered a plea of guilty [illegible] Bellinger sentenced the prisoner to the penitentiary for the period of eight years. Williams will probably be taken to the penitentiary to day.

Grangers.—We understand that on Saturday afternoon there was an important meeting of grangers at their hall in East Portland. The principal officers of the state grange were present. Of the nature of their transactions we have not been informed.

Officers Elected.—Saturday afternoon a meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Railroad Company limited was held at the office of Ellis G. Hughes in the State Investment building. The following officers were elected: Wm Reid president, [illegible] Mac[illegible] vice president, J [illegible] secretary, [illegible] Beswick, late of the N. P. R. R., chief engineer, and Ellis G. Hughes attorney.

"Lost in London."—To-night Mr Brown Hill appears in his great character of Job Armroyd in "Lost in London," a part that he has made peculiarly his own. This character has been played by Mr Hill with the greatest success everywhere through the East and in San Francisco, and a great artistic treat is in store for those who attend the New Market Theatre this evening.

Cleared.—The ship Mearwyre [illegible] has cleared for Liverpool with the following cargo:

From Portland	[illegible] ctls wheat	$ [illegible]
From Portland	6450 bbls flour	[illegible]
From Astoria	[illegible] ctls wheat	[illegible]
From Astoria	[illegible] bbls flour	11 709
Total		$ [illegible]

First Mail.—For the first time since the great wind storm the mail was carried from East Portland to Eagle creek by the regular route on Saturday last. John Shaver the mail carrier accomplished the journey on horseback, the road being yet impassable for vehicles and probably will be for some time to come.

A Railroad Hospital.—The managers of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company have put in force a good sanitary regulation. They deduct fifty cents per month from each man's pay and that fund goes to equip a hospital and pay the services of an attendant surgeon.

Fined.—Albert F. Cates was brought down from Umatilla by the U. S. deputy marshal, charged with cutting timber on government land. He was arraigned Saturday morning in the U. S. district court and having pleaded guilty to the indictment was sentenced to pay a fine of $100.

Good Time.—The steamer Ocklahama towed the barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg from Portland to Astoria last Friday in nine hours and ten minutes. The steamer Lurline made the run from here to Astoria without a tow in six hours and ten minutes.

BRIEF NOTES.

Matinee this afternoon

And still the snow lingers

Emelie Melville is coming

Churches well patronized yesterday

School meeting next Monday evening

Streets and roads drying—very slowly

The Dickey Goforth scandal is squelched

No business transacted at the banks to day

The steamer Oregon sails hence this morning

Who says that the sun never shines in Oregon?

Very few trout are running now. Water too cold

Saturday the grand jury presented two indictments

The steamship State of California due here this evening

Gov Thayer has appointed A J Moses a notary public

The steamer Elder will sail for Portland next Thursday.

The steamer State of California brings a large number of passengers.

Last Saturday the Oregon Staats Zeitung reappeared in a new form

A sunbath is a luxury and everybody was out enjoying it yesterday

The funeral of the late Wm. O Bruen was largely attended yesterday

The Washington Guard will give a grand ball at Turn Halle this evening

Yesterday was Washington's birthday but as it came on Sunday to-day will be observed

The demise of a favorite canary bird disturbs the dreams of a well known First street jeweler.

And now the good little boy ought to read and ponder on the story about "G W and his hatchet."

Girls, this is leap year and you have the privilege of telling the boys that if they mean business all is well but if not, just hint to them that the old man can't afford the oil just for the sake of the young folks being spoony.

The glorious sun
Stays in his course, and plays the alchemist
Turning, with splendor of his precious eye
The meager cloddy earth to glittering gold

The language is the great bard's but it is what the sun has been doing hereabouts for two or three days past, and what we trust he will continue to do for days to come.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater.—At the matinee performance Saturday a large audience—composed principally of ladies and children—was present. "Rosedale" was repeated in an excellent manner Saturday evening. The "Lancashire Lass" was produced for the first time in a number of years, Mr Hill, Mr Chaplin, Mr Lindsay, Miss Adams and Miss Granville appearing in leading roles, efficiently supported by the full company. The piece was well mounted and presented in a very acceptable style.

Matinee.—For the special accommodation of ladies and children and in compliance with a general request a matinee performance will be given this (Monday) afternoon. The sparkling and ever popular comedy of "Our Boys" will be repeated.

PERSONAL.

Messrs J Q Button and Dan McMillan of Roseburg are in the city

Mrs Mark A King and family leave this morning on the outgoing steamer. Mrs King goes to Alameda where she will remain for several months.

Miss Gertie Granville the young and charming soubrette, who has been playing at New Market Theater for several weeks will be a passenger on the outgoing steamer. She sails for San Francisco and from there will proceed at once to New York where she goes to fill an engagement at one of the theaters in that city. Miss Granville is a piquant vivacious little actress and during her brief stay in this city has become quite a favorite and won a host of warm friends.

CARD OF THANKS.

The ladies of the Baptist church desire to extend their sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted in their concert of Friday night, also to Messrs J K Gill & Co for their courteous service in selling tickets, and to the press for invaluable aid cheerfully rendered. The public having voted the concert a gratifying success artistically, the ladies are pleased to announce that it was also a very gratifying success financially. COM

A Novel Farm Gate.—We have just been shown a model of a farm Gate, the invention of Henry Allen, a farmer living near Silverton, which merits notice. The gate is constructed on the double barn door plan (roller) and on approaching it the driver or rider catches hold of a handle suspended from a cord which passes over a pulley and is connected with the gates when by retaining his hold the advancing movement of the horse or vehicle draws them apart and passing on through without stopping by catching another suspended handle the gates are drawn together again and securely fastened. This gate is simple in construction and has a practical look about it that commends attention. The farming community have long felt the want of such a gate and will doubtless appreciate Mr Allen's efforts to bring the matter to this state of perfection.

REMEMBER.

That there is no piano made which has the [illegible] improvements for perfect tone and perfection in action for pianists as the Steinway. The truth of which I am always ready to substantiate. Albert Bartsch sole agent for Oregon 14 First street.

The sale of [illegible] tickets begins to day at 10 [illegible]—at [illegible] seats for the season of twelve nights. The prices of admission for reserve seats during the season will be $1 50, gallery 50 cents.

For Fine Cigars, Tobacco, Notions &c, go to A P Chenery 1[illegible] Front street under National Hotel.

THE LATE WM O'BRUEN

Funeral Services Yesterday—Very Large Attendance

[illegible] Wm O Bruen took place yesterday afternoon [illegible] Columbian Engine Company [illegible] It was announced for two [illegible] a early as one [illegible] crowd began to collect in Washington street in the neighborhood of the engine house and by the time the services were over the sidewalks from First to Third streets were jammed with firemen and other citizens. The remains lay in an elegant rosewood casket in the assembly rooms with the features of the dead ex-chief exposed. Hundreds of friends called and took a last look at the face of the deceased which wore a peaceful natural expression. On the coffin lay a cross, a wreath and an anchor of immortelles and similar. At two o'clock Rev W C Chattin read the [illegible] psalm and offered a feeling prayer. The remains were then conveyed to the hearse and a procession of firemen formed. The following ex-chiefs of the fire department acted as pall bearers: Henry Morgan, Joseph Buchtel, Joseph Webber, Harry Weed, J [illegible] and Root Holman. The cortege preceded by the Washington Guard Band moved up to Fourth street, down Fourth to Stark and thence to the ferry. Not less than two hundred firemen and a large number of other friends in carriages followed the remains to Lone Fir Cemetery. Here Mr Chattin delivered a short beautiful address closing with a benediction. The body was then interred in the firemen's plat, a spot of earth in which its last occupant had in the past few years of his life sought to improve and beautify.

In Memoriam

Hall of Columbian Engine Co No 3, Portland, Feb 21 1880

At a special meeting of Columbian Engine Co No 3 held this evening Hon J W Whalley president the following resolutions were adopted to wit:

Whereas It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst and from the field of his arduous duties while yet in the prime of life our brother fireman W O Bruen and

Whereas By this sad bereavement this company is called upon to mourn the loss of a true friend a faithful fireman and a good citizen, therefore be it

Resolved That in this our sudden affliction we bow to the hand of an all wise Providence who sees but for our good and in this sudden warning He reminds us that in the midst of life we are in death. Deploring our friend's demise, in common with ourselves we tender our heartfelt sympathy to his relatives and friends

Resolved That in consideration of our respect to the memory of our ex chief the members of this company shall attend the funeral in a body in citizen's dress, wearing the usual badge of mourning

Resolved That the house be draped in mourning for the period of 30 days and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be sent to his relatives

Resolved That the foregoing resolutions be published in the daily papers.

BUSINESS NOTICES

The attention of mill men generally is called to the announcement of Allis & Black. This firm is prepared to furnish portable flour and saw mills, mill stones, water wheels, smelters, separators, brush machines, etc.

Those irrepressible dry goods men, Olds & King, have something new to say to the people in another column this morning. Mr Olds goes soon for spring goods and the firm is determined to reduce the present stock as much as possible before they arrive.

This morning M Lichtenstein of the firm of Harris & Lichtenstein and family left on the steamer Oregon. Mr Lichtenstein's trip down is to make special contracts with eastern dry goods speculators. Mr Lichtenstein means business as soon as he returns and do not forget it. I X L

RELIGIOUS DOCTRINE

SYSTEM IN SCIENCE, BUSINESS, ART—WHY NOT IN RELIGION

A [illegible] SERMON

The earnest seeker after knowledge [illegible] lays broad [illegible] the surface of things. [illegible] analysis to penetrate to the [illegible] and [illegible] forces.

[illegible] telescope and microscope [illegible] fossils and statistics [illegible] to make knowledge clear and [illegible].

What [illegible] variety of [illegible] are thus accumulated in the vast storehouses of speculation [illegible] libraries. [illegible] proceed with out [illegible] together by themselves. The demand for system is imperative. We [illegible] knowledge [illegible] be [illegible] Three things are gained by this systematic or orderly arrangement of the [illegible] knowledge.

First [illegible] to remember what [illegible] has learned [illegible] the [illegible] form [illegible] makes the application of knowledge less difficult. And [illegible] the formulas are of great assistance in [illegible] exactness of thought and [illegible]. They are [illegible] out as [illegible] as [illegible] youth.

The arrangement of items into classes, these formulas [illegible] are insisted upon by the scientific and literary men [illegible].

Geology the youngest [illegible] the sciences and Astronomy the oldest are illustrations of the value of precise and accurate definitions. Chemistry might be described as a bundle of formulas. With these the science is built up and reaches from the weight of a planet or a star.

A [illegible] has [illegible] so has geology, so has chemistry [illegible] every other science. All the learning of the world is built up on system. The school books are full of rules and formulas, questions and answers—all designed to make knowledge precise and definite and help to its use and application. All the business of the world is built up on system. Exceedingly varied—sometimes to [illegible] some lines reaching across oceans as the sails of commerce across continents like the inflexible railway—it all agrees in enforcing order which is its very life and rules which lend it vigor and success.

A great newspaper office is like a vast reservoir: draws supplies from every quarter, taps fountains far away, lays pipes to hidden sources, catches the rain, observes the wind, levies a tax on lightning, catechises the world, both rolls and creates public opinion, quizzes society, mirrors local life and measures the stir of all movement, spreads the whole upon your breakfast table every morning! But a newspaper is a very systematic thing. Its orders are autocratic. Its rules are inflexible as fate. Its system is absolute and relentless. If it were less than this it would hear the sentence of Nero—"Put yourself to death!"

The theory and practice of law and medicine are alike exacting upon the systematic arrangement of proceedings and strenuous in enforcing precedent and routine.

Art in its various branches allows no exemption. It is cosmos or chaos. It is order or confusion. It is rule or ruin. It is creed or crash.

We find the same demand equally absolute in the various associations of life. Every secret order adopts its dogmas and its practices. Every convention begins with a declaration of principles. Every political party has its platform. The nation began with the Declaration of Independence.

The state starts with a constitution. Every village society or club has its rules and regulations. Every coterie, alliance, copartnership and association is leagued together on some principles which they hold and avow which revolve around a common center, which is the life and spirit and purpose of the whole.

All this is perfectly natural. In the accelerated movements of the day guides are needed far more than when six days were consumed in carrying the mails from Boston to New York. In the speed of search after truth and gain the forms of expressing truths already known are of unspeakable importance.

The peril of mere guesses or pretenses—the audacity of shallowness—should be sternly rebuked. What we all demand is exact truth duly connected and digested and logically expressed facts, principles, processes clearly taught and as clearly understood and acted on. And what is any one of these sharp cut definitions but a dogma of science or business or art? In all practical matters we look to the men who know what they are about and can tell us what they know and what to believe.

From the lowest to the highest forms of our life we are safe and successful as the dogmas are received and the creeds are mastered. When these are not the mind is dark and the way dangerous.

By dogmas we build or break. By dogmas we sail the ocean. 'Tis midnight. A skillful change of course conducts the ship by a dangerous reef. "How did you know, captain, when to tack ship?" "By my reckoning," was the brief reply. And that reckoning was grounded on dogmas—arithmetical, algebraic, spherical, triangular, astronomical—every one of them a dogma, wrought out by ten thousand verifications of facts and principles.

We trust our lives in a dangerous illness to a man of dogmas. He doctors us secundum formulam, he sets a limb secundum artem. If he should attempt to experiment upon us, we show him the door.

We trust our case in courts to no legal quack. The private bank, the public funds are safely managed on sound financial dogmas, the creed of commerce. And political economy is through and through a concatenated network of double dessicated dogmas.

We cannot fail to notice with what keen instinct the lovers of knowledge, the masters of business and art, classify their attainments and formulate their processes and proceedings with a view to a clear understanding of them and a ready recollection and use of them.

Is it wise then to under value system or a plain and orderly arrangement of religious truths simply because they are religious? That orderly arrangement in a creed or confession or a catechism. It teaches out of sacred scripture what man is to believe concerning God and what duty God requires of man.

What is a dogma? Webster's first definition is: "That which is held as an opinion." That cannot be the dogma that gives such offense to some people who have opinions enough of their own and are very fond of them and usually introduce them freely to their friends.

Webster ( ) "It is an established tenet, a formally stated and authoritatively settled doctrine." This no doubt is the offensive dogma because it is settled and authoritative. Many very intelligent persons eschew it because they think this in some way abridges their freedom. But what evil is there in it if it be established on good authority?

We welcome such establishment of doctrine in other departments of knowledge and experience. Why should we reject it in this? Should you not be consistent and reject dogma in all other branches of knowledge? We cannot communicate knowledge without dogmatizing. We are at a loss to know how any real teaching can be imparted without doctrine.

We have men who say [illegible] teach the moral element in Christianity [illegible] reject the dogmatic element which [illegible] about.

[illegible] see [illegible] religious [illegible] on record. I am a pastor of the broad church [illegible] you must imbibe the moral element of Christianity. It is one of the ten great religions and on the whole the best. Comparative science shows this. Read and reflect. Cultivate yourself. The aesthetic and [illegible] are to be found in the bible and [illegible] in other inspired writers like Emerson, Mill and Compte and Matthew Arnold.

What sort of talk is this? Broad church [illegible] its pastor [illegible] doctrine to the negative beliefs.

What sort of sense do you call this? [illegible] the author of Christianity [illegible] the great [illegible] his apostles [illegible]

How can a man be just with God? [illegible] triumphantly [illegible] justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. [illegible]

[illegible]

A man [illegible] who has a vacancy. The preacher proceeds to say: "You want a place. Well I find a profitable position. Get a good salary. Lay up your wages. Be honest and you will get along." Or if he becomes unfortunate, [illegible] dismiss him saying "Go west young man."

Is that what the man wants? On the other hand how comforting if you say: "Here is a letter which will introduce you to my friend. He employs such as you. He is a [illegible] friend indeed [illegible] true [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] have [illegible]

[illegible] the world [illegible] another [illegible]

[illegible] truth [illegible] or half truths are [illegible] as dangerous as the generalities [illegible] of Broad Church preachers [illegible] of such utterances [illegible]

The world needs a positive religion. Not less truth but more [illegible] with it more [illegible] We are struggling in the grip of a hard mysterious destiny and we want to know if there is relief, what it is and where it may be found, and how it may be gained. [illegible]

We long for its affirmatives not its denials. We want its truths and promises stated so that we can grasp them, not as abstract dogmas but with sympathetic delight and confidence which we believe is inspired by a Father in Heaven kindling filial love in souls redeemed from sin by the voluntary substitution and sacrifice of the Son of God.

In this earnest search for the future state it can tolerate no [illegible] negations. It welcomes the affirmative power of positive ideas. Negation is weak, vacillating, inoperative. It can do small alone except in the shadow of great affirmative truths. And such truths are doctrines. Duly formulated they constitute the creed. They have a certain sound. They help the intellect to understand, the heart to love, the life to conform to them and the whole renewed being with intelligent devotion affirms I believe because it is written in Holy scripture Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

CONSTIPATION and BILIOUSNESS succumb to that wonderful vegetable regulator GOLDEN BLOOD SYRUP

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong healthy stomach ever committed suicide," yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia when a single bottle of DR MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief and if persisted in cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver, is suited to any climate wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations, genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge Davis & Co., Portland wholesale agents.

How to Save Money

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting inflammation, calculi, brick dust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll Wholesale Druggists say: We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market. Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon says: Everybody speaks highly of it. Childs, druggist, Portland says: Sold lots of it, it always does the work. Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctor gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 00 a bottle or six bottles for $5. Hodge Davis & Co Portland Wholesale Agents.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum and produces results that are wonderful.

Price $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity $10. [illegible] will not disappoint. [illegible] Hodge Davis & Co [illegible]

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year without any reasonable cause, certain resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a Fever or Lung trouble has set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken a cure would have resulted and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Young Fiend.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 20.—About a month ago the residence of William Worrell, near Claysville, Pa., was burned. It was evident at the time that it was the work of an incendiary but late developments have brought out very revolting facts, besides confirming the incendiary theory. James Worrell, son of William Worrell, was engaged to be married to a young lady in Washington county, but not having means to support a wife he undertook to destroy his father and sister in the flames so that he could come into possession of the property, and be enabled to carry out his wish. Before setting fire to the house he locked his sister in one room and tied his father in another room. Fortunately a servant discovered them before the flames reached them and with difficulty saved their lives. Worrell is 21 years of age and highly educated. The family is highly respected in the community in which they live.

The Illinois Anti-Grant Movement.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A circular was passed around among business men to day for signatures protesting against the renomination of Gen. Grant, and asking all republicans to unite in securing a representative delegation at the nominating convention. It was largely signed wherever presented.

Murder and Suicide.

BRATTORO, Vt., Feb. 21.—A pauper on the town farm at Corinth named Wm. Loyall, aged 29, killed another pauper, Adam Ferrin, aged 19, and then cut his own throat.

The Texas & Pacific Extension.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20.—Another fifty miles of the Texas & Pacific railroad extension west of Weatherford was let yesterday. Iron and other material and a complete outfit for a telegraph line from Fort Worth to Weatherford is on hand and trains will be running to the latter place by the 1st of April.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Mail Service to be kept Within the Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The following is the order issued by the postmaster general cutting down the mail service in Star routes:

To the Second Assistant Postmaster General: That there may be no deficiency created to maintain the star service for the present fiscal year, I direct that on and after March the 1st prox., service on all the star routes be reduced to one trip per week, allowing one month's pay as provided by law on the service so dispensed with. I also direct that the service placed on new routes since, and including July 1, 1879, be discontinued, if the foregoing reduction is not sufficient for the purpose indicated. I think that the rapid growth of population and [illegible] in the territories and new states, and the [illegible] and improvement of service in the southern states demand existing service, and in many instances additional service on old, and new service on recently established routes. I also believe that the public service will suffer by the reduction. The law requires that I shall not exceed the appropriation, and I am determined to conform to the law. (signed) D. M. KEY, Postmaster General.

The Inter-Oceanic Canal Question.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Representative Frye of Maine, has prepared a resolution for reference to the inter-oceanic canal committee, of which he is a member, reaffirming the Monroe doctrine, and taking the strongest grounds that no canal shall be constructed across the Isthmus of Panama, except under American protection.

A Bill to Relieve C. A. Felton.

Senator Booth to-day introduced a bill appropriating $9930 to reimburse C. A. Felton, late U. S. assistant treasurer, at San Francisco, for losses sustained by him in the payment of forged disbursing officers' checks without default or negligence on his part.

The True Inwardness of the P. M. General's Order.

The order issued to-day by the postmaster general, directing a reduction to be made of service on all star mail routes to one trip per week, from and after the first day of next month, nominally in order to prevent the [illegible] of a deficiency in the amount of money available for the remainder of the fiscal year, will undoubtedly effect the purpose for which it is especially intended, namely: to hurry and frighten congress into making the appropriation next week for the continuation of existing service. In case, however, that the requisite appropriation is not made in the time indicated, the order will be executed and kept in force until the pressure of public sentiment from western and southern portions of the country, which would suffer most from it, shall have stimulated congress to grant the money.

A Good Measure.

The senate committee on territories has decided to recommend for passage the bill extending the jurisdiction of United States courts in civil and criminal matters to the Indian territory, and providing for the acquirement of citizenship by Indians, and the allotment of lands to them in severalty under proper conditions.

The Mail Service Order.

The order of the postmaster general reducing the mail service upon all the star routes, which means all routes that are not upon the lines of the railroads, to one trip a week, will create a great outcry all over the country, and will bring such a tornado about the heads of congressmen that they will be glad to appropriate money so that the regular service may be resumed. The necessity of this order is the natural consequence of the generous disposition which the department has shown in [illegible] routes. So great has been the increase of population in the west that the demand for mail facilities has greatly exceeded the appropriations of congress. Assistant Postmaster General Brady has enlarged the service wherever it has been needed, and in doing so, he has expended nearly all the money appropriated for the service for the year in seven months, and as congress has neglected so far to provide for the deficiency, the postmaster general has decided to cut down the service until the money is appropriated.

McLane's Bill.

The bill recently reported by McLane from the committee on Pacific railroads, in reference to various Pacific railroads and their branches which have received government aid, has already caused much concern among all parties interested. The bill in effect confers upon a government board of commissioners to be appointed, supervising control over the operations of the subsidized railroads, with power to regulate charges over the same, and section ten repeals the act of March, 1875, granting right of way through the public lands to railroads. The provisions of the bill, particularly those enumerated, have stirred up the western railroad lobby to an unusual degree and they have been flying about at a great rate for the last two days working against the bill. There seems to be a growing sentiment among western members of congress particularly that the railroads which have taken possession of public lands in the territories under guise of right of way should be willing to be amenable to congress in their tolls. Mr. C. P. Huntington, who was exceedingly active yesterday, has left for New York, but is expected back with reinforcements to oppose the bill, and section 16 to which he principally objects. The Southern Pacific railroad comes east through Arizona to Tucson, some three hundred miles, and if the McLane bill becomes a law in its present shape, the Southern Pacific would have to stop in the wilderness or make terms with the government.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

German Affairs.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—The Prussian diet has been adjourned by royal order until the close of the session of the reichstag.

The Seed Potatoe Bill before the Lords.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—In the house of lords yesterday the bill authorizing the purchase of seed potatoes to be sold to Irish tenant farmers for planting, at cost or under, or on credit was read first time.

The Coming Races.

In the Liverpool spring cup races for March Parole will carry to weight, 131 pounds; Mistake, 96; Sly Dance, 92; and Wallenstein, 91. In the United Kingdom steeple chase at Croydon, April 1st, J. G. Bennett's Muscadin, will carry 155 pounds.

A Little Row Smoothed Over.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—In the house of commons to-day Plimsoll, member for Derby, read his apology for the language in his hand bill reflecting upon Sir Charles Russell, member for Westminster, and Onslow, member for Guildford. He said that he had convinced himself that Sir Charles and Onslow had acted for no wish to obstruct his bill for loading grain in bags. Sir Charles Russell said since it was no longer a personal question, but one affecting the privileges of the house, he placed himself in the house. Onslow then asked the house to accept the apology. The chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Stafford Northcote, while accepting the apology, said that he thought that the house should take notice of the matter as a question of privilege. The chancellor of the exchequer moved that the publishing of printed placards denouncing two members in the house was a breach of privilege, but that in consideration of Plimsoll's apology, further action was unnecessary.

In the reichstag to-day Herr Ackermann, conservative, was elected second vice president—the office refused by Hoelder.

Duchess of Marlborough Fund.

The Duchess of Marlborough denies that her fund goes exclusively to the Catholic clergy for distribution. The fund is fairly divided.

Official Appointments.

CALCUTTA, Feb. 20.—Pomeroy Colley, private secretary of the Viceroy of India, has been appointed governor and high commissariat of Natal and commander of the troops in the neighboring district.

Beaconsfield on the Afghan Situation and the Position of England.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—In the house of lords to night the Duke of Argyle moved for correspondence found at Cabul between Shere Ali and the Russian authorities. Lord Cranbrooke, secretary of state for India, refused to produce the papers and a debate ensued.

Lord Beaconsfield said that the British government considered that the time had arrived when they should settle forever who should possess the great gates to India. The policy of the government, distinctly and repeatedly declared, had not swerved for a moment from complete command of the great gates of the Indian empire, and they had been obtained with absolute success. Many things had occurred which the government had not contemplated but nothing had occurred which for a moment could induce them to modify or change their policy. They had been asked why if they had completed that policy they had not withdrawn from Afghanistan. They could not now when the people are in a state of comparative anarchy. That, however, is not the condition of Afghanistan. Parts thereof, and notably the district of Candihar, were in a state of absolute peace and great prosperity. Let us be firm, resolute and determined, and let the people know this country is ready to be just, but that it has resolved to be obeyed and the difficulties and complications will immediately disappear.

The Duke of Argyle then withdrew his motion for the production of the Afghan correspondence.

The Palace Explosion Victims.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—The funeral of soldiers killed by the explosion in Winter Palace, took place to day with ceremonies of unusual solemnity. Many officers were present.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A Bucharest dispatch announces that Belgium has recognized the independence of Roumania.

The Suspected Russian.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The demand of Russia for the extradition of Hortmann has been referred by Premier Freycinet to the ministry of justice. It is stated that some reactionary deputies applied for the man's release, but were told that if it appeared he was connected with the Moscow attempt, the government would surrender him to the Russian authorities.

CALIFORNIA.

Just a Little Funny.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—On Tuesday evening a company to be known as the Swiss, Italian, anti-Chinese dragoons was organized in this city. Forty members signed the roll and subscribed to a pledge that they would keep the secrets of the organization inviolate. A resolution to notify the city authorities that the organization was prepared to render them any assistance in their power, as such organization, or as citizens to remove the Chinese nuisance from the heart of this city, was unanimously adopted.

A Test Case.

Late last evening a warrant was issued for the arrest of Thiburcio Parrott, of the firm of Parrott & Co., on a charge of employing Chinese in the service of the Sulphur Bank Quicksilver Mining Co., of which Parrott is president. The case is made up to test the constitutionality of the act recently passed by the legislature prohibiting corporations from employing Chinese.

WEST INDIES.

A Cuban Insurrection Foiled.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A Havana letter says that the government has discovered a conspiracy among the creoles for an uprising in Melis Abja, and secured six of the ringleaders who were employed on the railroad. Three thousand Remington rifles and a vast quantity of fixed ammunition, arms and munitions were smuggled in from the United States, and the insurrection was to have begun the first week of March.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Will you have the kindness to publish a short communication from an humble farmer? I take THE OREGONIAN, pay for and read it. In it I find some good articles and some that I don't like, but upon the whole more to approve than condemn. I am, as you know, a granger, quite independent in politics, and vote as I please, always, however, for the best men. Yesterday with us was a very pretty day, so I walked down to town to get my mail, and there met a friend who had the kindness to give me a copy of the Standard, edited as he told me by his friend Tony Noltner. I frequently read the Standard, as several of my near neighbors take it, and have noticed his fondness for prefixes and adjectives. For instance, "Representative Whiteaker was at the capital," early or late as the case may be. "Congressman Springer" did thus and so. Now, how long will it be before we find Tony writing or publishing as follows: "The Hon. John, Gov. Congressman, Representative, Whiteaker, introduced a joint resolution to repeal, annul and declare void, the constitution and laws of the state of Oregon!" Of all the weak, wishy washy articles that have come under my own observation, one of the worst, is the Tony article headed, "When do we elect?" He seems to be in great trouble, poor, weak soul. He tells us what Dick Williams has said in regard to the matter. Dick in this case has given evidence of his good sense. Had Tony stopped where Dick told him he would have done well. But no; a portion of our delegation in congress (consisting all this session of only two members) is of opinion that the election does not take place till November. Now, I ask, what does this higgling show? The people can't help but see that this weak man and the one with the long prefix are determined to rule or ruin. They seem determined to control conventions and time of holding elections and have and hold as many state conventions as may be necessary for their purposes. A little money, I take it, goes a long way with poor Tony. Now I have a favor to ask. It is that some one will find out from Tony which portion of our delegation in congress it is that holds that in November a congressman shall be elected and then please write for his picture. We want to see how long are his ears.

This wise man suggests that the chairmen of the democratic and republican state central committees telegraph our delegation in congress to introduce a joint resolution to repeal, annul and make void the constitution and laws of the state of Oregon, all to oblige Tony and the prefix. Does he think that the chairmen above mentioned are fools or even a portion of them? The general law of congress does not require the states to change their constitutions until it may be convenient for them to do so. Nine out of ten of the states have elected their members of congress right along as they did before the law passed—some in the spring, some in the summer and some in October and November.

We grangers are going to elect our candidate in June, and let Tony enter his pony for the fall races. We think the "pubs" will enter for the June race. The roads will be in good condition. With proper feeding, rubbing and training a tall clean-limbed animal may be hard to beat. Hurrah for Tony and his pony and November slush—all well suited to each other. GRANGER.

THE LOOM OF LIFE.

All day, all night, I can hear the jar
Of the loom of life, and near and far
It thrills with its deep and muffled sound
As tireless the wheels go always around.

Busily, carelessly goes the loom
In the light of day and the midnight's gloom
And the wheels are turning early and late,
And the woof is wound in the warp of fate.

Click! click! there's a thread of love woven in,
Click! click! another of wrong and sin:
What a checkered thing this life will be,
When we see it unrolled in eternity!

Time with a face like mystery,
And hands as busy as hands can be,
Sits at the loom with hands outspread,
To catch in its meshes each glancing thread

When shall this wonderful web be done?
In a thousand years, perhaps or one,
Or to-morrow. Who knoweth? Not you or I
But the wheels turn on and the shuttles fly.

Ah, sad-eyed weavers, the years are slow,
But each one is nearer the end, I know;
And some day the last thread shall be woven in—
God grant it may be love instead of sin.

Are we spinners of good in this life web—say?
Do we furnish the weaver a thread each day?
It were better then, O, my friends, to spin
A beautiful thread, than a thread of sin.

NAPOLEON'S AMERICAN DREAM.

[From Woolward's "Bonaparte's Park," just published.]

The following deeply interesting account, never before given to the public, of the escape of King Joseph from France, and his voyage to America, was communicated to the author by Adolph Mailliard, of San Rafael, Cal., the devoted secretary and most confidential friend of the ex-king.

"A few hours before embarking on the French brig which was to take him to the United States, Joseph sent Mailliard to the emperor, with a letter urging again his brother to exchange places and make his escape from France in Joseph's vessel. But Napoleon replied verbally to the messenger: 'Tell my brother that I have well considered his offer, and that I can not accept it. It would seem like flying away from danger; besides, I could not leave behind me so many brave officers, who have sacrificed everything for me. Tell my brother that I hope he will escape the cruisers of England and arrive safely.'

Joseph, on receiving this last answer, sailed immediately for America. Had Napoleon accepted, he would probably have reached New York safely, as every precaution had been taken to avoid detection. The vessel selected was a small, common looking brig, the Commerce, of 200 tons, loaded with a cargo of Bordeaux wines for a market. She was a fast sailer and was strongly built, and was commanded by a skillful captain, Messervey, a Swede by birth. Although three times on the high seas, the brig was stopped and searched by English frigates which were on the lookout for Napoleon, the passports and papers of the passengers on board had been so carefully prepared under fictitious names that they were not discovered. The captain of the brig did not even know who they were until a few days after Joseph had landed in New York.

"The newspapers having published an account of his successful escape, and given the name of the vessel, the poor captain could hardly contain himself, and called at once upon Louis Mailliard, who assured him that it was true, and presented him in all formality to King Joseph. 'But why did you not tell me?' said he, 'I never would have betrayed him.' Mailliard had to explain to him that it was thought best to conceal the real names and positions of his passengers, for fear that he might have shown some hesitation or less assurance when boarded by the English officers. 'I think you were right,' said the captain; 'I would have sunk my vessel rather than let them come on board; you were right!' Joseph was much amused by this demonstration of Bonapartism and sent him a very handsome present to show that he had appreciated his treatment on board."

It is well known that for some years prior to the final abdication of Napoleon, the contingency of his being forced to abandon France and seek refuge in America seemed to have presented itself to his mind. The late Esquire Edward Robbins stated to the author that Louis Mailliard related to him that once when the emperor was speaking upon this, subject in presence of Joseph and his officers, he unrolled a map of the United States, and, placing his finger upon a spot in New Jersey, said, in substance: "If I am ever forced to fly to America, I shall settle somewhere between Philadelphia and New York, where I can receive the earliest intelligence from France by ships arriving at either port." This idea probably governed the count in his location.

Captain Thomas Drury, 2d infantry, is appointed special inspector at Fort Harney, on certain camp and garrison equipage, ordnance and ordnance stores, for which 1st Lieutenant James A. Haughey, 21st infantry, is accountable; and on certain hospital property, for which Acting Assistant Surgeon F. S. Stirling, U. S. A., is accountable.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Governments quiet; stocks closed strong; W. U., 114⅝; Erie, 47⅞.

The local markets are very quiet, with holders firm in asking full rates for wheat and flour. Floating cargoes are reported from London as strong, with a continued demand for the continent. Cargoes on passage have an upward tendency. Buyers here show a little more disposition to operate, and good shipping lots command $1 92½, while most such are held at $1 95 and upward.

Review of the Chicago Market.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Feb 21.—Wheat—Ruled firm but quiet throughout the week, with a decided tone of strength that was partly due to confidence engendered by small receipts and partly to the rising values in British and continental markets. There has been no other noteworthy feature in the week's grain markets except this one of greater strength and confidence. The same feeling has developed in the provision trade, and prices took a strong up ward tendency, the best prices being reached near the close of the week. March option wheat, $1 22⅞@1 25¼; closing cash prices $1 24½. Receipts for the week, 134,000 bushels; shipments, 490,000 bushels. Receipts same time last year, 386,000 bushels. Shipments, 227,000 bushels.

Gold and Stock Company's Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.

Receipts—4000 qr sks flour, 23,000 ctls wheat, 700 ctls oats, 15 000 doz eggs.

Charters—British ship Alex. Yeates, 45s for Cork, U. K.

Weather—It is raining in the San Joaquin valley and southern counties—heavy rains.

Wheat—Very quiet and firm. There is a light demand for gilt-edge grain for a small cargo for Callao. Sales made at $2; otherwise no demand, but market strong from sellers' standpoint. The market is affected by Liverpool news. It is generally thought that our surplus is nearly all marketed. The balance is in strong hands, and any activity causes considerable excitement.

Barley—Dull.

Corn—White sold at $1 05; small yellow, $1 15.

Flour—Steady.

Quicksilver—Firm at 45c; market is affected by the shutting down of mines because of Chinese excitement.

Butter—Steady.

Eggs—Unimproved.

Apples—Good to choice, firm.

Oranges—Easy.

Lemons—Firm.

Limes—Higher, 4@6.

Dried Fruits—Quiet but firm.

Foreign Trade.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The total value of imports during the year 1879 was $573,745,748, ditto during 1878 was $43,812,485. The value of domestic exports in 1878 was $729,023,236.

EASTERN MARKETS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Trade increased in some departments, no stay in seasonable manufactures and raw materials thereof, but as a whole the movement falls short of expectations, and this has an unsettling effect upon values.

Breadstuffs—Quiet and export demand light. Holders however have confidence in an early revival of export demand, and do not yield but hold very firmly.

Provisions—Quiet, steady.

Rio Coffee—Moderately active at ¼c advance, closing firm.

Refined sugars—Fair demand, prices weak, especially on hards, crushed [illegible], powdered [illegible], granulated [illegible], cut loaf [illegible], standard [illegible], white extra C [illegible], extra C [illegible], yellow [illegible].

Teas—Quiet, not freely offered, held firmly.

Borax—Less active, but very firmly held at an advance.

Quicksilver—Good demand, firm at [illegible].

Opium—Slow, weak, [illegible].

Petroleum—Dull, easy.

Turpentine—Rather quiet, firm at 52c.

Rosin—Dull, nominal.

Crude Whale Oil—Inactive, sperm quiet, very firm.

Hardware—Active, prices firm all around and tending upwards.

Nails—Not active, prices strong, with notice of advance to $5 40 per keg.

Pig Iron—Very quiet at 40; Scotch pig demoralized, with sales at very low prices; manufactured iron held at full prices, but quiet.

Tin Plate—Unchanged; demand moderate.

Hides—Very dull, prices easier.

Leather—Better demand at decline; Cala 25@26c.

Paints—Very firm, but business light.

Hops—Fair demand at about steady prices.

Wool—Active, strong; sales Cal 175 bales and 134,000 lbs fall 24@27½c; 150 bales spring, 40c; 20,000 lbs scoured, part 60c.

Boston Wool Market.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—Wool—Market for all kinds was quite active sales of the week comprising 1276 bales and 800 lbs of foreign and domestic. There was no abatement in demand, manufacturers being free purchasers of all available lots on spot and to arrive. Prices advanced about 2c per pound on washed fleeces and about the same on Australian wool; sales of choice Ohio fleeces have been restricted by advanced views of holders, domestic combing and delaine fleeces very quiet. There was good demand for all Cal. Pulled wools were in demand, and supplies taken as fast as received. Transactions in foreign wool were quite large. Sales include Ohio and Penn XXX and No. 1 at 53½@51½c; Michigan 53@51½c; Wisconsin 50½c; New York, New Hampshire and Ohio 49½@52½c; delaine 54½@58c; Kentucky clothing 35@46, Oregon 32½@42½c; unwashed and unmerchantable fleeces 32½@48c; Territory 30@45c; fall Cal 24@38½; spring Cal 39c; superfine and X pulled 45@47c; scoured 48@61; tub washed 65c; Australian to arrive 50@57, Montevideo 40@42, and English combing 50@57c. Total sales of Australian, 919,000 lbs, and of Montevideo 845,000 lbs.

Shipping Intelligence.

The British ship Aberystwith Castle, drawing 18 feet, left at 10 A. M., for Astoria in tow of the Ocklahama.

The British bark Dilharre is taking in wheat at Pacific dock.

The British ship Frankfurt Hall, to Rodgers Meyer & Co., arrived here last night. She was discharging ballast to-day at the foot of C street.

The British bark Girvan cleared from here for Queenstown with 17,171 sks wheat, (22,557 ctls) value, $45,114 40. She will probably go down the river on Monday.

The British bark Lammerlaw was taken to day at 57s 6d to U. K.

There is not a disengaged vessel in port, and only two due—one considerably overdue.

The steamship State of California, from San Francisco, is due here Monday afternoon.

Owing to the rapid receding of the river, vessels loading in port were given quick dispatch.

The Kinross, in tow of the Alice, is expected to-morrow (Sunday) morning.

The steamboat Alice will take a load of flour to Astoria for the Aberystwith Castle.

The schooner Emily Stevens, from Tillamook arrived this afternoon. She will, after discharging cargo, load for Honolulu.

DR. PAUL N. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

LANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly 5,000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division in Eastern Washington, which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River, in Washington Territory, to Lake Pen d'Oreille, in Idaho. These lands, of unexcelled fertility, are adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired, are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation, causing a rapid growth in population of the country, and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company, passed November 19th, 1879, fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is, in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof, and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company:

"Resolved, That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre, with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land.

"This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands, nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites, nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply, where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual; nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road."

To persons wishing to purchase on time, the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms: One fourth cash at time of purchase, the balance in four equal yearly payments at 7 per cent. interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present, but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase, or "Settlers' Applications," as they are called, for land in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment, or time contract, for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for, have no right to the first privilege of purchase; such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same, as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale, no more "Settlers' Applications" will be filed.
